Dear Mr. Crider:

This is a final response to your 15 May 1987 Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request for OSS information concerning Carl Jung. Your request was processed in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. §552, and the CIA Information Act, 50 U.S.C. §431. Our processing included a search for records in existence as of and through the date of our acceptance letter dated 10 June 1987.

A search of the OSS index under "Carl Jung" located the following documents, copies of which were still in the possession of this agency. Enclosed, Tab A, are copies of Documents 1 through 4 which are being released to you in their entirety. Also enclosed, Tab B, is a copy of segregable portions of Document 5, a Report dated 4 October 1946. Deletions from #5 were made under FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3); an explanation of these exemptions is enclosed as Tab C.

The CIA official responsible for this determination is [redacted] the Information Review Officer for the Directorate of Operations. (b)(3) (b)(6)

You have the right to appeal the above decision by addressing your appeal to the CIA Information Review Committee, in my care. Should you decide to do this, please explain the basis of your appeal.

We apologize for the length of time it has taken us to complete the processing of your request, but we have received a large number of requests over the past years. Under the circumstances, we have done our best to be fair to all of our requesters, adhering to our policy of first-received, first-answered. Thank you for your patience and consideration while we were processing your request.

Sincerely,

John H. Wright
Information and Privacy Coordinator

Mr. Allen W. Dulles,
Herrengasse, 23,
Bern.

My dear Dulles,

Since after my illness I get interested once more in the affairs of the world, the various ways of propaganda began to interest me. German propaganda tries inevitably to hollow out a moral hole with the hope of an eventual collapse. A better propaganda appeals to the moral strength and not to the feebleness of the enemy.

As far as the psychological effectiveness of Allied propaganda is concerned, it strikes me that the best things that have appeared so far are General Eisenhower's proclamations to the German people.

These proclamations, couched in simple, human language which anyone can understand, offer the German people something they can cling and tend to strengthen any belief which may exist in the justice and humanity of the Americans. Thus they appeal to the best in the German people, to its belief in idealism, truth and decency. They fill up the hole of moral inferiority, which is infinitely better propaganda than destructive insinuations.

General Eisenhower certainly should be congratulated.

Sincerely yours,

Signed: C. G. Jung.

American Legation,
Bern, February 3, 1945.

My dear Dr. Jung:

I was delighted to get your letter of February 1, 1945, and to hear both in this way and from Mary R. of your recovery. I hope to see you and have a good talk with you at your early convenience.

I am leaving for Paris on Wednesday to be gone a few days, and I shall take your letter, in which I know General Eisenhower will be much interested. I shall also pass on messages from you to Paul Mellon.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Dr. C. G. Jung,
Seestrasse 228,
Kilsnacht-Zürich.

Prof. C. G. Jung

Küsnacht-Zürich March 14th 1945

My dear Dulles,

This is to introduce Mr. F. Baumann, my son-in-law, who you have seen in my house at the occasion of Mr. [illegible] visit. Mr. Baumann is the former pres[illegible] Chambre de commerce Suisse en France and he is [illegible] that country in order to investigate the conditions of trade in the said country.

I had a charming letter from the head of Eisenhower's General Staff, which pleased me very much.

I should be much obliged to you, if you would kindly permit, that Mr. Baumann personally presents this letter to you.

Yours sincerely

C. G. Jung
